Strategy & Operations | Tech-Forward Executive | Builder of High-Impact Programs
Bridging Technology & Business | Revenue Growth from Underutilized Resources | Systems Thinker

Strategic operator and product-minded executive with 15+ years of success scaling capabilities across fintech, blockchain, SaaS, and enterprise tech. Builds strategic orgs from the ground up, often transforming ambiguity into structured, cross-functional programs that unlock efficiency, revenue, and customer success.

Known for driving results through visionary thinking, data-driven decision making, and hiring exceptional people leaders. Not a maintainer, a builder, with a track record of creating global programs, standing up new business functions, and reducing costs while growing ARR.

Thrives in high-growth environments, especially 100–1,000 person companies where clarity, speed, and structure are mission-critical. Adept at scaling teams, overseeing director-level leaders, and working directly with executives to align on product, operations, and long-term roadmap strategy.

Widely recognized as a force multiplier, the executive brought in to build capabilities, architect scalable operations, and transform high-potential companies into streamlined, high-performing rocketships.
